Question:

How to backup/recover DB with zip/unzip function by command? (From DBMR 1846)

Answer:

DBMaker only compress the full backup files, incremental backup will not be compressed because the incremental backup file is smaller and compress it may cause some overhead when restore database.

At present, DBMaker does not support command function to restore compressed backup files. Zip backup file feature should depend on backup server or JServer Manager Tool when DB_BKZIP is turned on.
